EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Versatrac is a light-duty, compact mobile storage system, developed by Brownbuilt ...so you're assured it's a well engineered, quality product.

Brownbuilt has an unmatched heritage in mobile storage, having been manufacturers of mobile office and industrial storage systems since 1950.

Versatrac is available in conventional "longitudinal" (as shown on cover) and "transverse" (opposite) configurations to suit your individual storage space and access requirements.

Versatrac is a fully featured unit, designed to economically maximise storage efficiency by reducing your valuable floor space.

SECURITY

Versatrac "longitudinal" units are available with a key-activated locking console, featuring a steel locking pin that engages directly into the track section.

TRACK

Versatrac utilises a unique low profile modular aluminium track that is laid directly onto an existing floor surface, without the need for preparation of the floor or floor covering.

SAFETY

Versatrac units are fitted with overhead stabiliser systems that effectively join the storage cabinets together as they move, preventing tipping.

ADAPTABLE AND FLEXIBLE

Versatrac is extremely versatile, with a range of storage cabinet sizes and configurations to suit your particular storage needs. Brownbuilt offers a wide range of filing and storage accessories to maximise your storage potential, whether in an office, archive or warehouse environment. The modular construction of Versatrac means that units can be easily reconfigured or relocated.

SMOOTH OPERATOR

Versatrac storage cabinets are constructed using Brownbuilt shelving fitted to welded steel mobiles that can be joined to form two-bay wide units. Sealed bearing load wheels in the mobiles run on a durable steel track insert for ease of movement, and lateral guide wheels ensure correct mobile alignment. A metal interlocking levelling plate system compensates for variations in the floor surface.

FULL SUPPORT

Brownbuilt's national network of experienced consultants can assist with storage needs analysis to formulate individual innovative and practical storage solutions. Brownbuilt has a total commitment to quality with all products manufactured to a quality system complying with ISO 9002.
